Office of the Attorney General

Re: Notice of Data Breach, Iowa Code § 715C.1-2

To the Office of the Attorney General:

Pursuant to Iowa Code § 715C.1-2, we hereby provide notice of a security breach on behalf of Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada and certain of its affiliates, (collectively, "Sun Life"). This incident may have affected the personal information of 2270 residents of Iowa. The affected residents will receive notice in the form of the enclosed template beginning on or about August 21, 2023, which includes an offer of credit monitoring services as described therein.

What Happened

Pension Benefit Information, LLC ("PBI") performs research services for Sun Life. Specifically, PBI conducts searches on Sun Life's behalf of various government databases, including the Social Security Administration, to identify the deaths of insured persons. The services enable Sun Life to comply with applicable regulatory obligations to determine if benefits are due in connection with life insurance and certain disability policies.

On May 31, 2023, Progress Software Corporation announced the identification of a zero-day vulnerability in its MOVEit Transfer software. On June 22, 2023, PBI notified Sun Life that it had discovered that a threat actor exploited that vulnerability in their instance of the MOVEit Transfer software to obtain unauthorized access to PBI's data on May 29 and May 30, 2023. PBI uses the MOVEit software to transfer data files internally within PBI's environment and with its sub-processors to provide the services to Sun Life. Sun Life does not itself use the MOVEit transfer software, and therefore this incident has no impact on Sun Life's information systems. Through its investigation, which is on-going, PBI determined that, during the exploit, the threat actor gained access to files containing information about policyholders and other individuals associated with Sun Life.

What Information Was Involved

The personal information contained within the compromised files varied by individual and included the name, and Social Security Number and/or date of birth of the affected individuals.

What Sun Life is Doing

Once notified of this event, Sun Life immediately engaged its internal Cybersecurity Incident Management process, assigned a cross functional team to lead the internal investigation, and engaged outside legal counsel. Out of an abundance of caution, Sun Life took immediate steps to block its link to PBI, which will remain in place while Sun Life's investigation is pending.

PBI reported that it has installed the required security patches provided by Progress Software to remediate the vulnerability in the data transfer software, conducted its own forensics investigation, and engaged an independent forensics firm that determined there was no further impact to their systems as a result of the threat actor's exploit. Additionally, PBI informed Sun Life that it has enhanced its safeguards for data, including setting new rules for deletion of data from its instance of the software.

PBI continues to investigate the incident to identify affected individuals. Once affected individuals associated with Sun Life were identified, Sun Life worked with PBI to send notification letters to the affected individuals, and to offer credit monitoring and identity theft protection services for at least twenty four (24) months, at no cost to them. If and when additional affected individuals associated with Sun Life are identified, they too will be notified, and offered credit monitoring and identity theft protection services.

As required by Iowa Code § 715C.1-2, PBI is providing notice of this incident on behalf of Sun Life to the affected Iowa residents by mail beginning on or about August 21, 2023, using the enclosed template notification letter. On Sun Life's behalf, we are providing notice of this incident to appropriate agencies in other jurisdictions as required by applicable law.

PBI is providing notice of a third-party software event that may affect the security of some of your information. Although we have no indication of identity theft or fraud in relation to this event, we are providing you with information about the event, our response, and additional measures you can take to help protect your information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On or around May 31, 2023, Progress Software, the provider of MOVEit Transfer software disclosed a vulnerability in their software that had been exploited by an unauthorized third party. PBI utilizes MOVEit in the regular course of our business operations to securely transfer files. PBI promptly launched an investigation into the nature and scope of the MOVEit vulnerability’s impact on our systems. Through the investigation, we learned that the third party accessed one of our MOVEit Transfer servers on May 29, 2023 and May 30, 2023 and downloaded data. We then conducted a manual review of our records to confirm the identities of individuals potentially affected by this event and their contact information to provide notifications. We recently completed this review.

What Information Was Involved? Our investigation determined that the following types of information related to you were present in the server at the time of the event: <<b2b_text_2(name, data elements)>>.

In response to this event, we are also reviewing and enhancing our information security policies and procedures.

While we are unaware of any identity theft or fraud as a result of this event, as an additional precaution, PBI is offering you access to 24 months of complimentary credit monitoring and identity restoration services through Kroll. Details of this offer and instructions on how to activate these services are enclosed with this letter.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;

¹ Kroll's activation website is only compatible with the current version or one version earlier of Chrome, Firefox, Safari and Edge. To receive credit services, you must be over the age of 18 and have established credit in the U.S., have a Social Security number in your name, and have a U.S. residential address associated with your credit file.

6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
