Both were convicted, conviction was vacated, this was appealed by USAO - Two United States District Judges granted the men's motions for judgment of acquittal after concluding the federal sex trafficking statute applied only to suppliers of commercial sex acts, not consumers. Jungers was acquitted in December 2011.	The January 7, 2013, reversal by the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals marks the first holding on the issue by any federal court of appeals. It was determined that the statute does apply to both suppliers and consumers of commercial sex acts, and evidence in both cases showed the defendants were guilty of violating the statute. https://caselaw.findlaw.com/us-8th-circuit/1620002.html
